BY AIR

Although East Midlands Airport is the closest airport to Nottingham, depending on where in the world you are flying from, international delegates may find it easier to fly in to Birmingham, Manchester or a London airport and then travel to Nottingham using the train or National Express coaches.

East Midlands Airport is 17 miles away from the Conference Centre and was one of the first airports in the whole of Europe to offer a new integrated self-service check-in for passengers, enabling them to allocate their own seat on board and check their own bags whilst reducing the time spent queuing. And to make your journey even easier, the new direct bus service, Skylink, has been improved. It now operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week providing both holiday makers and late shift workers with an alternative to the car. Departing every 30 minutes from East Midlands Airport into the heart of Nottingham city centre, Skylink takes the stress out of your journey. For more information visit the East Midlands Airport: Nottingham, Leicester, Derby or Skylink websites.

Birmingham International Airport is around a 40-minute drive to the south of the county. The UK's fifth largest airport, it provides a comprehensive range of chartered and scheduled flights, real time online and SMS arrivals and departure updates. As well, of course, as the parking, transportation and lounge facilities you would expect of an international airport. For more information visit Birmingham International Airport. There is also a rail station (Birmingham International) at the airport from which delegates can travel onwards to Nottingham.

Manchester International Airport is accessible to the north of Nottinghamshire in under an hour. The airport is home to more than 95 airlines and 300 tour operators serving over 180 destinations worldwide. It offers excellent parking, real time online arrivals and departure updates, transportation and lounge facilities. For more information visit Manchester International Airport.
